

The jury (members listed below) for the Dornach-Auhof, Katzbach neighborhood convened on April 30, 2008. From a total of three submissions, the following project was selected:

Working title: “Linz Artists in Religious, Cultural and Culinary Spaces of the Dornach-Auhof & Katzbach Community Center. Interconfessional, Interreligious, International as well as Secular Encounters to Foster Mutual Understanding”

Submitted by the Roman Catholic Parish of the Holy Ghost, Protestant Church of Reconciliation in Linz/Dornach, Association of Catholic University Students, Dornacher-Stube

Linz was always a textile town and still is one. Textile artists from Austria and abroad, established masters and up-and-coming talents, will present their work in religious, cultural and culinary settings in the Dornach-Auhof & Katzbach Community Center. An interesting lineup of ancillary events and an educational program designed for young people being developed in cooperation with the Linz Art University's Textile Art & Design Program aims for intensive involvement by the general public. What roles do textiles play in everyday life? Where and how are they produced? And which article in our wardrobe would we never part with in a million years? These are precisely the pieces of clothing that the project organizers will be collecting and showcasing in an exhibition whose motto is: People wear clothes, not clothes make people!

Participating Artists: Prof. Fritz Riedl, Prof. Marga Persson, Lee Chen-Hao, Chang Ming-Chi, Pit Nimmervoll, Blasmusikkapelle St. Magdalena

Jury Members:

Representative of Linz09: Tamara Schwarzmayr

Project Staff Member: Marie-Therese Strasser

Representative of Linz Kultur: Gerda Forstner

Representative of the Linz indie art and cultural scene: Andrea Mayer-Edoloij

Representative of the partner neighborhood St. Magdalena: Roland Spitzlinger,

Bildungshaus St. Magdalena

Local resident in an advisory function with no vote: Helga Prinstringer